

We Build Futures Award

February, 2018

Adam Lorence

*Librarian / Lead Librarian K-12
Poquessing Middle School*

In your nomination, the following were highlighted:

- You engage students daily to help them become lifelong readers, thinkers, and learners;
- You support the professional staff by providing them with innovative ways to implement technology in the classroom and provide important technical support to students and staff;
- You have been a driving force in getting our three middle school libraries prepared to support the implementation of genre studies;
- You have been instrumental in moving the 1:1 technology initiative forward in our three middle schools;
- You have provided many professional development sessions on the use of technology and Canvas to professional staff and administrators;
- You have provided critical support to the high school as they plan the professional development necessary for the Canvas rollout at Neshaminy High School;
- You truly embraces the “SAMR model” that encourages our teachers to use technology in ways that redefine how learning takes place; and
- You have proven to be a leader who keeps the focus on our children.

In so many ways, you have helped advance our beliefs that all people can learn and that trust promotes creative problem solving.

You are an asset to Poquessing Middle School and the district as a whole
