

We Build Futures Award

December, 2017

Ingrid Beck

*Bucks County Intermediate Unit #22 Teacher
Herbert Hoover Elementary School*

- You teach an autistic support class at Hoover and have been described by parents as incredible;
- You and your classroom assistants have been successful in helping to transform students;
- You are considerate, compassionate, enthusiastic and very well organized;
- You are wonderful in how you interact with the students and help them get excited about things that are important to them;
- You challenge your students academically, and the parents have seen major improvements across the board that include academics, social skills and self-esteem; and
- The parents are thrilled with you and your staff and feel you are truly doing an incredible job.

Your classroom shows that children are our future and that valuing diversity strengthens our society.
